

The World Golf Teachers Federation (WGTF) was established in America in 1993. Since its inception, the WGTF became the first worldwide membership entity of professional golfers to adapt a standard method of certification which crossed boundaries amongst golfing nations.

The WGTF is dedicated to producing the world's best and most successful coaches.

Steve Cameron has passed the Diploma Level 3 course with the World Golf Teachers Federation & is now a fully qualified member of the world's largest organisation of coaching professionals in the world.
